

Druids

Yesterday and Today

The Concordia University Pagan Society is proud to present
The following seminars:

Saturday, March 28th

Druidism Ancient & Modern - 10h00 to Noon

Modern Pagan Druidism - 13h00 to 15h00

Featuring:

Rev. John (Fox) Adelman,
Archdruid of Ár nDraíocht Féin (ADF)

Druidism Ancient & Modern will detail the history of Druidism, revealing the facts and debunking the fallacies surrounding ancient Druidry and its modern revivals. Modern Pagan Druidism will give participants a more specific understanding of land based spirituality and modern Druidic practice. An open discussion will follow.

Rev. Adelman has been active in the modern Pagan movement for fourteen years. In addition to his current position as Archdruid, he is also founder and Senior Druid of Shining Lakes Grove, ADF in Ann Arbor, Michigan. He is actively working to empower Druidism as a living faith and modern Paganism as a viable, accepted religious alternative in mainstream culture.

Ár nDraíocht Féin, Gaelic for "Our Druidism", is the largest modern Pagan reconstructionist organization in North America. Over the past twenty years, ADF has utilized the scholarship of Anne Ross, Stuart Pigott, Georges Dumézil, Marija Gimbutas, J.P. Mallory and others, to bring the religion of the ancient European peoples to life. On this foundation they have built a open and respected tradition of scholarly, artistic and ceremonial excellence in the modern Pagan community.

Location: Simone de Beauvoir Institute, 2171 Bishop.

Fee: $5.00 at the door (includes both seminars)
